

 Services to End Domestic and Sexual Violence

January Community Education Virtual Learning Schedule

All presentations are free and open to everyone!

Trust Your Instincts: What Stalking Looks Like

January 13, 2021: 12:00pm - 12:45pm

Stalking is a tactic used by offenders to gain power and control over their victim, but what is it? With a better understanding, we are able to recognize this behavior and support survivors. Presenters will define stalking, give examples of common stalking tactics, and how it relates to domestic violence. Participants will learn the effects that stalking has on the survivor and ways to support them. Click here to register.

We're Still Here: An Overview of Turning Point Services

January 22, 2021: 12:00pm - 12:45pm

We continue to provide free and confidential services to individuals impacted by domestic & sexual violence. Join us to learn about the programs we offer and how to make referrals to each program. Participants will leave the presentation more familiar with all Turning Point services and its impact on survivors. Click here to register.

How Do I Help My Friend?

January 26, 2021: 6:00pm - 6:45pm

Many of us have felt helpless when someone we know is being abused. Stop spinning your wheels and start making a difference. Participants will learn how they can take an empowerment approach when supporting survivors to help restore power and control. Turning Point staff will educate participants on survivor options and resources. Click here to register.

